1. Introduction

Writtle Infant School collects and uses personal information about staff, pupils, parents and other individuals who come into contact with the school. This information is gathered in order to enable it to provide education and other associated functions. In addition, there may be a legal requirement to collect and use information to ensure that the school complies with its statutory obligations.

Schools have a duty to be registered, as Data Controllers, with the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) detailing the information held and its use. These details are then available on the ICO's website. Schools also have a duty to issue a Fair Processing Notice to all pupils/parents, this summarises the information held on pupils, why it is held and the other parties to whom it may be passed on.

The designated Data Protection Officer is the Headteacher.

2. Purpose

This policy is intended to ensure that personal information is dealt with correctly and securely and in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998, the GDPR act of 2018, and other related legislation. It will apply to information regardless of the way it is collected, used, recorded, stored and destroyed, and irrespective of whether it is held in paper files or electronically.

All staff involved with the collection, processing and disclosure of personal data will be aware of their duties and responsibilities by adhering to these guidelines.

In 2018 there will be the introduction of the General Data Protection Regulation. This policy is intended to reflect the changes that will come into force. All decision makers and key people need to be aware the law is changing.

3. What is personal information?

Personal information or data is defined as data which relates to a living individual who can be identified from that data, or other information held. We hold names, addresses, date of birth, contact details, attainment and progress data, medical and SEND needs data and other personal information that parents need us to hold about the children, for example allergies, personal circumstances etc. We also hold information about the staff, contact details, date of birth, medical and other personal details, absence, pay and qualifications. The information comes from the parents and on occasions from the children, for example when a disclosure is made. We verify ages of individuals with checking of birth certificates and other identification such as passports and driving licenses.

4. Data protection principles

The Data Protection Act 1998 establishes eight enforceable principles that must be adhered to at all times:

1. Personal data shall be processed fairly and lawfully;
2. Personal data shall be obtained only for one or more specified and lawful
3. purposes;
4. Personal data shall be adequate, relevant and not excessive;
5. Personal data shall be accurate and where necessary, kept up to date;
6. Personal data processed for any purpose shall not be kept for longer than is necessary for that purpose or those purposes;
7. Personal data shall be processed in accordance with the rights of data
8. subjects under the Data Protection Act 1998;
9. Personal data shall be kept secure i.e. protected by an appropriate degree of security;
10. Personal data shall not be transferred to a country or territory outside the European Economic Area, unless that country or territory ensures an adequate level of data protection.
11. The forms for the new intake will have a clause where parents give their permission for the data to be held and how we will use any information. Consent has to be a positive indication of agreement to personal data being processed. It cannot be inferred from silence, pre-ticked boxes or inactivity.
12. In addition the GDPR will expect the following:
What personal data do we hold?
We hold names, addresses, DOB, contact information of parents and other individuals who are contacts for the children, information about particular children such as parental access, medical and SEND needs. We also hold information about social care referrals and other notes that are relevant and important for the care of the child concerned.
We do not share personal data without the permission of the parents/carers, unless it is a social care referral where we are advised that informing the parents would put the child at risk.
13. The GDPR brings in special protection for children's personal data, particularly in the context of commercial internet services such as social networking. The new intake forms will give the parent or guardian's consent to process the data lawfully
14. If personal data is breached, the GDPR insists that the ICO is informed.
15. A Privacy Impact assessment will be a legal requirement and would need to be re-done when there is a high-risk situation such as new technology being employed.

5. General statement

The school is committed to maintaining the above principles at all times. Therefore the school will:

- Inform individuals why the information is being collected when it is collected
- Inform individuals when their information is shared, and why and with whom it was shared
- Check the quality and the accuracy of the information it holds
- Ensure that information is not retained for longer than is necessary
- Ensure that when obsolete information is destroyed that it is done so appropriately and securely
- Ensure that clear and robust safeguards are in place to protect personal information from loss, theft and unauthorised disclosure, irrespective of the format in which it is recorded

- Share information with others only when it is legally appropriate to do so
- Set out procedures to ensure compliance with the duty to respond to requests for access to personal information, known as Subject Access Requests

Also information such as SEND records and Child Protection records would not be erased as per legal requirements. The new act of 2018 gives people a stronger right to have their data deleted, however we will use the legal requirements we have as our legal basis whether to proceed or not. The legal basis for processing the data would need to be explained.
  - Prevent direct marketing
  - Prevent automated decision making and profiling
  - Appropriate data portability – any data that is shared is done via the expected procedures, e.g. common transfer for new and leaving pupils

Complaints will be dealt with in accordance with the school's complaints policy. Complaints relating to information handling may be referred to the Information Commissioner (the statutory regulator).

APPENDIX 1

Writtle Infant School procedures for responding to subject access requests made under the Data Protection Act 1998 and the General Data Protection Regulations of 2018

Rights of access to information

There are two distinct rights of access to information held by schools about pupils.

1. Under the Data Protection Act 1998 and the GDPR regulations of 2018, any individual has the right to make a request to access the personal information held about them.
2. The right of those entitled to have access to curricular and educational records as defined within the Education Pupil Information (Wales) Regulations 2004. These procedures relate to subject access requests made under the Data Protection Act 1998.

Actioning a subject access request

1. Requests for information must be made in writing; which includes email, and be addressed to the Headteacher. If the initial request does not clearly identify the information required, then further enquiries will be made.

2. The identity of the requestor must be established before the disclosure of any information, and checks should also be carried out regarding proof of relationship to the child. Evidence of identity can be established by requesting production of:

- passport
- driving licence
- utility bills with the current address
- Birth / Marriage certificate
- P45/P60
- Credit Card or Mortgage statement

This list is not exhaustive.

3. Any individual has the right of access to information held about them. However with children, this is dependent upon their capacity to understand (normally age 12 or above) and the nature of the request. The Headteacher should discuss the request with the child and take their views into account when making a decision. A child with competency to understand can refuse to consent to the request for their records. Where the child is not deemed to be competent an individual with parental responsibility or guardian shall make the decision on behalf of the child.

4. The school may make a charge for the provision of information, dependent upon the following:

- Should the information requested contain the educational record then the amount charged will be dependent upon the number of pages provided.
- Should the information requested be personal information that does not include any information contained within educational records schools can charge up to £10 to provide it.
- If the information requested is only the educational record viewing will be free, but a charge not exceeding the cost of copying the information can be made by the Headteacher.

5. The response time for subject access requests, once officially received, is 40 days (not working or school days but calendar days, irrespective of school holiday periods). However the 40 days will not commence until after receipt of fees or clarification of information sought. From 2018 it will be one month. In addition we will need to provide additional information such as data retention periods and the right to have inaccurate data corrected.

6. The Data Protection Act 1998 allows exemptions as to the provision of some information; therefore all information will be reviewed prior to disclosure.

7. Third party information is that which has been provided by another, such as the Police, Local Authority, Health Care professional or another school. Before disclosing third party information consent should normally be obtained. There is still a need to adhere to the 40 day statutory timescale.

8. Any information which may cause serious harm to the physical or mental health or emotional condition of the pupil or another should not be disclosed, nor should information that would reveal that the child is at risk of abuse, or information relating to court proceedings.

9. If there are concerns over the disclosure of information then additional advice should be sought.

10. Where redaction (information blacked out/removed) has taken place then a full copy of the information provided should be retained in order to establish, if a complaint is made, what was redacted and why.

11. Information disclosed should be clear, thus any codes or technical terms will need to be clarified and explained. If information contained within the disclosure is difficult to read or illegible, then it should be retyped.

12. Information can be provided at the school with a member of staff on hand to help and explain matters if requested, or provided at face to face handover. The views of the applicant should be taken into account when considering the method of delivery. If postal systems have to be used then registered/recorded mail must be used.

Complaints

Complaints about the above procedures should be made to the Chairperson of the Governing Body who will decide whether it is appropriate for the complaint to be dealt with in accordance with the school's complaint procedure. Complaints which are not appropriate to be dealt with through the school's complaint procedure can be dealt with by the Information Commissioner. Contact details of both will be provided with the disclosure information.

Contacts

If you have any queries or concerns regarding these policies / procedures then please contact the Headteacher. Further advice and information can be obtained from the Information Commissioner's Office, www.ico.org.uk or telephone 0303 123 1113.
