Look what we've been doing!

We have done lots of reading this week. The children had fun learning how to read playscripts. We have a few budding actors and actresses in the cohort. The children impressed us with their confidence, fluency and expression. They also read a non-fiction text about Africa and a fiction text called 'The Spider Weaver'. They then answered questions about the texts.

The children used a variety of different sources to create their own African animal fact files. They really don't complain about writing when they are learning lots of fun facts! Maybe they can tell you what they've learnt.

In Maths, we have continued exploring weight, volume and temperature. The highlight this week was a fun-filled morning discovering how much water different containers held. The children loved it and the sunshine made sure that any soggy clothing quickly dried!

The second Artsmark morning took place on Tuesday. This week Sharks drew charcoal portraits of each other with Mrs Fisk. Dolphins class demonstrated their drama skills with Mrs Herring. We look forward to the third instalment next week. This week the children have also created their own African art. They have made beautiful African animal silhouettes with a sunset background and completed with an African inspired printed frame. We also have some wonderful weavers! The children are busy making their own coasters. Hopefully, these will be finished by the end of term!

Of course we couldn't miss the fact that the football World Cup is currently taking place. The children had fun using atlases to locate the countries taking part and completed some World Cup maths challenges. Fingers crossed, England will continue to do well in the tournament!

Thanks for sending in lots of lovely baby and toddler photos. The children have enjoyed trying to match the photos to the children. We also looked at how the children have grown and changed over time.

Home learning

This week, we would like the children to make a sun safety leaflet or poster. As usual, you can present this in whichever way you want to.

Reminders and messages

Well done to our Y2 tennis club members who won their tournament against Galleywood Infant School. Our thanks go to Jane Gowers who organised the event.

You should have received information regarding costumes needed for the Leavers Assembly. Please bring in costumes, in a named bag by next Friday.

Stay safe in the sunshine this weekend!
